Fishskin Flyers are basically an all-species tube bait. It features a parabolic wing and tendrils with flash, tied on a tube, all of which is made with proprietary, tough "Fishskin" material. The bait is approximately 10" in length and has life-like, 3-dimensional eyes epoxied to the soft fishskin head. The rear of the tube is notched to position, a hook either up or down, a wide range of hook sizes from 3/0 to 8/0 depending on the species being fished. Although the "Fishskin Flyer" can be spin cast or jigged, its primary use is for trolling. When trolled, the "Flyer" has the action of a small flying fish due to its parabolic wing and is balanced to stay in the water at any rod position or wave. Ultra light tackle anglers will be delighted to know that the "Fishskin Flyer" exhibits about 4 to 6 ounces of drag at 8 knots, depending on hook size selected.
